

Do you have a child with

ADHD OR ADD?

A new Jewish support group for parents of children with Attention Deficit (Hyperactivity) Disorder is being launched for the first time in Manchester. The group, JADDS (Jewish Attention Deficit Disorder Support) is being set up by a group of parents of ADHD children, "There are support groups in the North West, and national ones, but there is nothing that specifically meets the needs of Jewish parents.

Jewish children have needs that may not be catered for by mainstream groups – for example, connected with Jewish schools, accessing culturally appropriate resources, coping with Jewish Studies, attendance at synagogue or coping on Jewish holidays and holy days."

Does your child have Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder or Attention Deficit Disorder? If you would like to be involved please contact us via www.jadds.org.uk or on 0161 660 9124. Confidentiality assured.
